Other Types of Permanent Records Collected by the University

The following types of permanent records are retained by the university, but are not submitted directly to the University Archives:

Theses and Dissertations

Students submit their theses and dissertations to Graduate Studies. During this process, one copy will be submitted to the University Library. Electronic copies are normally placed into ScholarsArchive.

Professional Papers

Faculty are encouraged to submit their Professional Papers to Special Collections for review. Professional Papers include lecture notes, research, professional correspondence and professional associations. Special Collections generally accepts information related to the history of BYU, Church, Utah or the American West. Please contact Dainan Skeem (dainan_skeem@byu.edu) for more information.

Faculty Research

Faculty may place past and current research data and publications into ScholarsArchive. Please go to ScholarsArchive.byu.edu or contact Ellen Amatangelo (ellen_amatangelo@byu.edu) for more information. While BYU-Sponsored Research may be placed in the University Records Center, Personal Faculty Research is not to be submitted to the University Records Center or held by University Records Management.
